I would recommend B&B Ristorante by Mario Batali and Joe Bastianich. They have an impressive collection including 5,500 bottles of Italian wine representing every region in Italy, with many available by the “quartino” carafe.

COWORKING LOUNGE
The Congress Center is the perfect backdrop for our innovative coworking lounge, presented in conjunction with Zappos. The one-of-a-kind amenity features 1,170 square feet of working space, complete with Wi-Fi access, charging stations, four private phone rooms, and private conference rooms that wait on you. This is an easy board business center by day; rather, it’s a comfortable, relaxed exclusive outfitted in stylish furnishings from Restoration Hardware.

The Coworking Lounge is located on Level Two of Congress Center.

The Flavors of Fall
At Our Restaurants
For a hint of autumn, try one of these:

Roast pork Campagna at Morels Steakhouse & Bistro, served for brunch with sautéed spinach, braised red cabbage, and Pommery mustard.

Honeycrisp apple salad at Table 10, served with chopped kale, shaved radicchio, dried cranberries, toasted pumpkin seeds, and apple cider dressing.

Fall harvest salad at Delmonico Steakhouse, served with shaved organic pears, Lola Rosa lettuce, triple cream brie cheese, champagne-honey vinaigrette, and candied spiced pecans.

Crispy Jidori egg from SushiSamba, served with puffed, saurcegas, chiles, mushrooms, fresh truffle, onion purée, and kabocha gnocchi.

Caramel apple cheesecake at Grimaldi’s Pizzeria, served with a cinnamon sugar cookie crust.

Mason jar pumpkin shake at Yardbird Southern Table & Bar, created with house-made pumpkin pie, vanilla ice cream, whipped cream, and caramel drizzle.

The best brands. The best in beauty. The best of shopping.
The Atrium is a shoppers’ dream come true, located on the casino floor of The Palazzo, and along The Venetian Grand Colonnade.

Indulge yourself in a total of 16,000 square feet of glancing shops and world-recognized brands (that’s a set 16 types, we say 16,000 square feet).

Both locations have quite the range of variety and style. You name it, they’ve got it. From beauty brands like MAC, Komé Kosé, Tom Ford, and Burberry to fine jewelry and fashion names like Dior, John Hardy, Salvatore Ferragamo, and MCM.

To ensure a top-notch shopping experience, product experts are ready to meet your every need. Ask them to show you a selection of rare items the shop has earned, including the Bovet Recital 18 watch, called “the shooting star,” which is one of only two in the world with its kind of engraving class work. It’s the most fashion-forward time in the sartorial calendar: fall. Garnet. Crimson. Ruby. Scarlet. Magenta. Layered in hues of red, and noted designers are taking cues from this natural extravaganza. While brisk temperatures often mean subdued earth tones in fabric, accessories can blaze with bright colors, especially from two of the most notable creative powerhouses in contemporary fashion—Michael Kors and Jimmy Choo.

LOOKING AT THE EXEMPLARY WATCHES OF BELLUSSO JEWELERS.

They say time is the most precious commodity in the world. It’s followed closely in value by beautiful, rare substances like sparkling diamonds, gleaming gold, and lustrous silver. Artistry and craftsmanship are also precious, especially the highest levels of expertise that are handed down by generations upon generations of European watchmakers. Personal timepieces — such as the masterworks available at glittering Bellusso Jewelers — are wrist-borne art galleries and compasses of the soul that help define life’s grand journey. And, of course, watches are astounding achievements of technology and engineering.

Let's take a closer look at some of these amazing meetings of art, science, and experience.

AN EXQUISITE COLLECTION

One of the most recognized luxury names in the world, BVLGARI brings iconic Old Hollywood glamour to Las Vegas with the evocative Serpenti. First created in the 1940s, the motif was made famous by Elizabeth Taylor in the epic film Cleopatra. The modern treasure features 18-karat rose gold, diamonds, and dramatic black onyx adornments.

Switzerland’s CORUM impresses with its 10 Lirot watch series, which celebrates the modern State of Israel with a commemorative 1973 silver coin. On the back, each case displays an inspiring depiction of the nation’s Declaration of Independence. Only 18 were originally handcrafted, and all on the market are offered exclusively by Bellusso. CORUM celebrates the famous Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, Calif., with its Golden Bridge artworks. They are unique among watches for having the only vertical “baguette” movements. With 360° interior views, 18-karat gold cases, hand-engraved structural details, and anti-reflective sapphire crystal cases, they’re as gorgeous as their beloved architectural inspiration.

The refined Zeitwerk by A. LANGE & SÖHNE is unsurpassed in precision, starting construction. In the venerable company’s headquarters in Saxony — the birthplace of Germany’s famed watchmaking tradition — each piece is built, tested, disassembled, and then rebuilt to ensure the highest quality. They are visually notable for jumping numeral displays and sweeping power reserve indicators. Even more, only 10 percent are exported to the U.S.

The Traditionnelle by VACHERON CONSTANTIN — the world’s oldest watch manufacturer — is breathtakingly adorned with more than 750 scintillating diamonds. For all its elegance, the piece is water resistant to three bars (30 meters). Each bears the prestigious Hallmark of Geneva certification. Bellusso Jewelers is the only Vacheron Constantin boutique in Nevada, and is one of a scant handful in North America as a whole.

The renowned Longitude by GREUBEL FORSEY of La Chaux-de-Fonds, Switzerland, is exquisitely engineered and fascinating to wear. With 559 moving parts, many of which are visible behind the sapphire crystal casing, the piece is like an intricate, mechanical ballet. Not only is it water-resistant, it also has 120 hours of long-lasting power.

MEET THE ROLLING STONES
Exhibitionism
It’s a journey like no other. It’s ultimate rock ‘n’ roll. It’s Exhibitionism, the interactive installation that shares the 55-year history and legacy of the most influential and famous band working in the world: the Rolling Stones.

A traveling extravaganza filled with musical history as made by Mick Jagger, Keith Richards, Charlie Watts, Ronnie Wood, and the rest of the boys, Exhibitionism is like a documentary, a museum, and a concert all rolled into one amazing, thrilling, and mind-blowing experience. You could say it’s the very definition of cool.

It’s almost incredible to think that the Rolling Stones started back in London in 1962, when the bandmates began jamming on covers of American R&B songs. In the years to follow, they’d help define life’s soundtrack for whole generations. From the music lovers who were there when the band released the classic “Not Fade Away” in 1964 to new legions of fans who have just recently discovered their timeless artistry, Exhibitionism is a perfect fit. As People magazine said, “fans of the band — or of pop culture at large — will find themselves at home.”

GALLERY OF GREATEST HITS
Exhibitionism, which is the largest traveling installation of its kind in the world, took years to curate and bring together. The result is an array of memorabilia the Rolling Stones gathered through the decades, and that means a lot of one-of-a-kind treasures. In fact, more than 500 original, irreplaceable items are on display in multiple separate galleries. Each section has its own distinctive focus, such as the “Meet the Band Room.” It features Watt’s first drum kit with its beautiful, lustre paint job. It also contains Richards’s personal diary from the early 60’s, pages are filled with the earnest thoughts of the then budding guitarist.

While the Rolling Stones have long been superstar ambassadors of glamour, handsome matriarch of international jetsetters, one gallery gives a revealing and humorous look at their hardscrabble early days. It’s the detailed “Edith Grove” recreation of the London apartment they shared when first becoming a band. Let’s just say they were busier back then perfecting their sonic chops than doing the dishes. Other architecturally-diverse dioramas include scale models of the immense stage designs the band has used on tour.

And, of course, there are plenty of vibrantly colored artworks throughout the installation, especially concert posters and album covers by leading visual artists like Andy Warhol, David Bailey, John Pasche, Wiliam Bond, Shepard Fairey, Michael Cother, Christian Pippe, Robert Frank, and many more. Visitors to see the more than 130 decades of Stones shows they have seen. There are also many framed photos and electric guitars filling the halls.

SURROUNDED BY SOUNDS
Everything in Exhibitionism leads to a single, shared destination: the music. In keeping, the entire show is tuned to immerse guests in the spirit of the Rolling Stones. Many galleries, for example, feature interactive displays. One popular gallery is set up like a studio where guests can adjust tracks from the band’s songbook to create new mixes. There’s also a video narrated by the legendary filmmaker Martin Scorsese. Finally, every voyage through Exhibitionism culminates in a stroll through holdings followed by a spectacular 3-D concert. In the words of the Wall Street Journal — and a certain groundbreaking 1965 song — the Exhibitionism experience can be summed up as “art, fashion, satisfaction.” Satisfaction, indeed.

JUMPIN’ JACK FASHION
One of the most memorable and enjoyable aspects of Exhibitionism is its extensive collection of street clothing and stage costumes (sometimes they’re one and the same) worn by the band over their career, from Jagger’s outrageously patterned cape to Wood’s stylish fur jacket from the 70’s. The extensive ensembles are the creations of top fashion houses and designers including Prada, Dior, Gucci, Alexander McQueen, Hedi Slimane, Orson Clark, Z-Witten Scott, John Reed Gardner, and Mr. Fish. There are also contributions from Anna Sui, John Varvatos, and Tommy Hilfiger that describe how the Rolling Stones influenced their work and the modern fashion world in general.

Coming this fall to The Palazzo. Tickets are available at any box office at The Venetian or The Palazzo.

In our Waterfall Atrium, you’ll discover a graceful spectacle that appears as a shimmering shower of gorgeous hues — purples, blues, and greens — that pours from the skylight above to a reflective pool below. No, it’s not water or projected light. Rather, it’s a collection of 3,590 strands of ribbon, each 47 feet long. All told, 32 miles of iridescent fabric in 15 varying colors hang gracefully in the atrium forming Another Sky by visionary artist Anne Patterson. “Installing it was a lot of work,” says Patterson of the five midnight-to-morning shifts it took her and her crew to install the prismatic opus. “That was quite a feat.” Echoing the appearance of fluidity that defines Another Sky, Patterson’s original plans changed at the end. “I thought that we were going to cut all the ribbons level, so they’d be exactly the same length once we had the piece hung. Then I decided I liked the way it looked having them uneven, that they felt like raindrops coming down,” she said. “It gave it more life.” Patterson is thrilled by how visitors react to the piece. “People really love it. They’re really surprised by it, and very curious. They don’t just walk by. It engages them, so they stop,” she says. “Kids love it. Kids are always the best with art. They don’t think ‘what is it, what’s it made of?’ Kids just get this great big smile on their faces. They’re the most fun to watch.” Patterson recommends a few ways to get the most extraordinary views of the gorgeous shower of ribbons. “It’s really cool when you lean back and look into it. It feels like falling stars,” she adds. She also suggests visiting it in both daytime and night, as its patterns change in different light, as well as viewing it from the mezzanine level. “I think it’s beautiful the way it changes.”

You can’t miss Laura Kimpton’s stunning LOVE sculpture in our Waterfall Atrium — the monumental, twelve-foot-tall, ruby-red metal letters make a perfect backdrop for photos. Kimpton, who is known for her mixed media installations and sculptures, owes her inspiration to her dyslexia. Combined, these ultimately complete her project. LOVE, a piece from Kimpton’s Monumental Words series, was originally featured at the Las Vegas Life is Beautiful festival in 2016 before it was installed at The Venetian and The Palazzo — now its home. The alphabetical figures feature symbolism on a human level. “LOVE is about being true to who you want the way you want,” says Kimpton. “The bird stamps that perforate the letters represent everyone’s quest to follow their dreams, which is the message that I hope will inspire people as visitors interact with the piece. Las Vegas is the city where people pursue their dreams, and this sculpture will act as a touchstone for this journey.” To add to the wondrous qualities of LOVE, Kimpton has been dyslexic, making her expressions of giant, gleaming letters even more rich in meaning and beauty for casual observers and art lovers alike. Enjoy Kimpton’s installation during your visit, and be sure to share your images on social media as you declare what “love” means to you.

LOVE will be “on loan” to the Life is Beautiful Festival, September 22-24.
MIX IT UP

Don’t hit a plateau. Incorporating new workouts in your schedule is a great way to shake up your routine and improve fitness. Add excitement with a new cycling, barre, or pilates. Try an exhilarating session of Vinyasa yoga. For an intense cardio workout, add Tabata exercises to your routine. It’s a HIIT (High-Intensity Interval Training) workout of 20 seconds of all-out effort, followed by 10 seconds of rest. Repeat for four minutes. You’ll burn extra calories and improve endurance. Even better, you’ll definitely notice a change in muscle tone.

BRING A FRIEND

Want to optimize your workouts? Working out with a partner is not only fun, it’s proven to improve motivation, too. That uplifts your mood with simple, increased cardio performance on machines, and taking it a step further by the intense brood-boost: find a challenging, 40- to 60- minute, walk-in partner and perfect your technique from top to toe.

GET TECH SAVVY

While unplugging for a quiet workout now and then can be relaxing, utilizing the newest and best technology available can truly improve workouts. A heart rate monitor can help increase your workout intensity. Apps and wearable devices can also make a positive impact while stretching, running, lifting weights, cycling, and beyond. Plus, some apps even have the added fun of challenging friends in friendly competition.

WHEN IN DOUBT, ASK FOR HELP

Not sure how to improve your personal fitness? Seeking guidance? Look to the expertise of a certified personal trainer. These athletic professionals — available by appointment in our Fitness Center — can evaluate your current fitness level, your goals and create a personalized program to help you achieve notable results.

Some say you can learn a lot about artists from their childhood. When it comes to Baz Luhrmann — the filmmaker who rose to international fame with his opulent and frenetic retelling of Shakespeare's classic tale in 1996's Romeo + Juliet — it might surprise many to learn that he was raised in a remote village in Australia, very far from the glitz of Hollywood. But his mother owned a dress shop and taught dance, and his father ran a movie theater, so he was surrounded by creativity from his earliest days.

FUN FACTS ABOUT ‘BAZ’:

- The Palazzo Theatre was completely remodeled to accommodate BAZ, with new cabaret-style seating.
- The word “love” is used more than 75 times in every performance of BAZ.
- BAZ was featured on this season of “Dancing with the Stars” during Vegas Week, with a performance by Bonner Bolton & Sharna Burgess.
- The role of Daisy has been called a “starmaker,” because its strong vocals give an actress a chance to “wow” audiences. Alumnus Ruby Lewis recently returned from Broadway to reprise this role, to the delight of fans.
- BAZ was recently named “best production cast” by Vegas Seven magazine.

BAZ — A Musical Mash-up can be seen Tuesday through Sunday nights at The Palazzo Theatre. Tickets start at $59.00 (plus tax) and can be purchased at any box office.

 Upon graduating from the prestigious National Institute of Dramatic Art in Sydney, where he studied acting, Baz Luhrmann embarked on a successful stage career. Turning to moviemaking to expand his artistic expression, he first gained recognition with the charming, dance-filled Strictly Ballroom. A few years later, the box office spectacular that was Romeo + Juliet launched him into the stratosphere of go-to directors.

Next, he assembled the cast of Moulin Rouge to create the visually lush romantic tragedy set in a dreamlike Paris of 1900.

2013 saw the pinnacle of his cinematic career so far: The Great Gatsby. The work took on F. Scott Fitzgerald’s masterpiece novel and transformed it into an exuberant forefront of cinematic fantasy that transfixed moviegoers.

All four films are noted for their lavish details and their blending of stage musicals and the silver screen. And all four works have been “mashed-up” in our resident production, BAZ — A Musical Mash-up. The immersive production is filled with soul-stirring music, exuberant dance and evocative scenery. Guests can even enjoy cabaret-style seating on the stage, becoming part of the action.

IL DIVO: THIS IS YOUR NIGHT

How about a bit of classical music with a modern twist? The four amazing singers of Il Divo — tenor Urs Bühler, baritone Carlos Marín, pop singer Sebastien Izambard, and tenor David Miller — draw rave crowds with their thrilling versions of “Bésame Mucho,” “To All the Girls I’ve Loved Before,” and even Beethoven’s triumphal “Ode to Joy.”

HUMAN NATURE

For an evening of upbeat, exhilarating music, plug into Human Nature Jukebox. The pop vocal quartet from Australia is a worldwide sensation, and they’ve brought their newly-updated show to The Spamalot. Human Nature takes on modern favorites like “Uptown Funk,” and brings to life international classics from ABBA to Motown.

Tuesday-Saturday: 7pm
Located at The Sands Showroom

RASCAL FLATTS

Kick it with the Stars, Country-style

When it comes to contemporary country sounds, Rascal Flatts goes big. Really big. With a decade of clap-your-hands, heartland rave-ups and tender ballads alike to draw upon, the trio of Gary LeVox, Joe DeMarco, and Joe Don Rooney are some of the most acclaimed and successful musicians on the scene. This marks their return to a Las Vegas residency, and is presented by SiriusXM.

TAKE A FABULOUS DAY TRIP TO GORGEOUS RED ROCK CANYON

Just a half hour away awaits a stunning natural treasure of the American West — Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area. It’s a spectacular valley filled with soaring, multicolored cliffs rising thousands of feet over a pictorial desert floor of Joshua trees and yucca bushes. You can get a glimpse of its majesty from the Strip, but only in-person does Red Rock Canyon’s brilliant magenta, vermilion, orange, golden, and green grandeur truly come alive for the eye. It’s best experienced with a drive around its 13-mile, one-way Scenic Loop, one of the most spectacular roads in the entire Southwest.

After a stop at the entrance gate*, tour the Visitor Center, which is filled with educational dioramas covering the unique history and ecology of the picturesque region. Fall is a wonderful season to visit the landmark, experience comfortable temperatures, and see abundant wildlife like songbirds and wild burros.

For many visitors, especially those who love the great outdoors, the best part of Red Rock Canyon is its many hiking trails. Here’s a quick overview of some of its standout routes.

Welcome to nature’s neon

MOENKOPI LOOP
2 miles
One of the easiest trails, Moenkopi Loop begins and ends at the Visitor Center parking lot. It features panoramic views of the Willow Cliffs, the Calico Hills, and Blue Diamond Hill.

ICE BOX CANYON
2 1/2 miles
For experienced hikers, Ice Box Canyon is a difficult but rewarding destination. A rambling, sandy, boulder-jumbled path leads to a narrow slot canyon featuring a creek and waterfall in wet months.

LOST CREEK
3/4 mile

CALICO HILLS
2 – 6 miles
This trail runs along the richly tinted, multi-colored sandstone base of the Calico Rocks to Sandstone Quarry, which once provided construction materials for buildings decades ago. Walking on curving rock surfaces is a truly memorable experience.

Easy — moderate

How to get there...

The best way to reach Red Rock Canyon is in a rental car from Hertz. Just head to our desks in The Venetian and The Palazzo lobbies, or call extension 4.3660 (The Venetian) and 7.2505 (The Palazzo), to select your vehicle. Once you’re ready to drive, follow W. Charleston Blvd. all the way from S. Las Vegas Blvd.; it’s a straight shot to the Visitor Center parking lot from there. In addition, an array of guided professional tours can be arranged; contact the Concierge desk to set one up.

Ride shares and taxis are a possibility, but are probably not the best value due to the distance, so not recommended.

For a classic Las Vegas journey, follow Highway 150 south from the Red Rock Canyon Visitor Center past the quiet hamlet of Blue Diamond, then follow the signs east to rejoin the glowing Las Vegas Strip at its southern stretch. From there, it’s a mere rails, glittering canyon drive north back to The Venetian and The Palazzo.

*Entrance to Red Rock Canyon N.C.A. is $7 per vehicle. Admission fee is covered by the America the Beautiful Annual Pass.

What about the rocks?

If you’re a fan of geology, you’ve ventured to the right place. Much of the colorful rock on display in Red Rock Canyon is Aztec Sandstone — petrified sand dunes from an ancient desert. Pushed up into the sky over millions of years, wind and water have carved the soft stone into dramatic shapes. The reddish hues of some of the layers come from microscopic grains of iron that have rusted over eons of rain and snow. Piled on top of the sandstone is younger limestone and dolomite. This is the gray, forested landscape that makes up La Madre Mountain and Mt. Charleston, the lofty peaks that loom to the north of the Scenic Route. This feature is known as the Keystone Thrust Fault, and is one of the most notable examples of plate tectonics in the world.

Chef Lorena García

Chef Lorena García of Chica, our new Latin American restaurant, has a lifelong dedication to the vibrancy of her homeland — Venezuela — and beyond throughout South and Central America. Raising Chica to new heights was a kingdom-goal for García, who added to her personal vision board as she became a successful restaurateur, respected cookbook author and TV personality on the Food Network, including her hit show "Chica Style."

The Palazzo. It’s time to explore.

"It’s always been a dream to be in Vegas," says García, who teamed up with John Kunkel of Yardbird Southern, for the opening of Chica. "A lot of the dining scene is customizable, fun and lively — the perfect place for a fun and light environment."

García’s approachable personality shines through in signature dishes like fresh-tossed ceviches, arepas, citrusy Porchetta, crispy Yucca and delightful murals, features an overall message she’s inspired by.”It’s about how developed as an artist. "It’s okay to love everybody and everything." hidden secrets

The Venetian and The Palazzo are filled with eye-popping wonders all about, from our stunning lobbies to the evocative halls of the Grand Canal Shoppes. However, some of our most amazing attractions take a little extra looking to find. Here’s a sneak peak at some of our fantastic hidden secrets. They’re yours to keep to yourself, or to share with friends.

CHECKLIST: THE DORSEY

The Dory is a high design, memorable cocktails spot for the worldly, curious, and engaged. This new bar is the perfect place to pop-in for a meticulously prepared drink or settle in for the evening with friends. When you drop by, we’re excited to offer a checklist of our favorite gems at The Dory.

- THE LIBRARY
  - Enjoy a cocktail or settle in for the evening with friends. When you drop by, The Library is perfect for watching the world go by.
  - At the back of the bar, you’ll find a library of high-design, memorable cocktails.

- DIGITAL ART
  - Pay attention to the eight screens located throughout the bar.
  - The Dory features stunning digital artworks — each evolving over time — from artists such as Marilyn Minter, Laurie Simmons, Jason Salinas, and Pippa Wang.

- BOOZE ’N JUICE
  - For a quick pick-me-up, try a Boxing Glove. Brewed coffee and the addition of rum, vanilla, and the Italian digestif Amaro CioCiaro.

- PUNCHE BOWLS
  - These serve four to six people. It feels good to share, after all! There are five to choose from, but we’re partial to the Coney Island Express.

- PENICILLIN
  - This is a sensation. In fact, the New York Times included the drink in its list of 11 essential drinks of the “modern cocktail revival.”

- BACON & EGG
  - The Dory features stunning digital artworks — each evolving over time — from artists such as Marilyn Minter, Laurie Simmons, Jason Salinas, and Pippa Wang.

- YARDBIRD BISCUITS & GRAVY
  - This foodie find includes the following: brisket fries (smoked brisket, Mornay cheese & BBQ sauce); and, Smothered grits (bacon, corn, cheddar, chives); Pickle Chips (fried and Organic pickles).

- UNIQUE CHEF EXPERIENCES
  - Chef Emeril Lagasse offers several unique opportunities for small groups. Delmonico Steakhouse’s glass-paneled private dining room puts guests right in the middle of the action with opportunities for small groups. safety & security

The Venetian and The Palazzo are equipped with a state-of-the-art fire protection system, the highest quality smoke detection system, automated sprinklers, and a public-address system with speakers throughout the resort and in each and every guest suite. In addition, we have a trained staff ready to assist. In the unlikely event of an emergency, it is important that you know what to do.

Special Assistance
If you feel you will need special assistance during an emergency situation, notify the Front Desk or Security as soon as possible. Please touch the "Front Desk" button on your In-Suite telephone.

Upon Arrival in Your Suite
When you arrive at your suite, locate the emergency exits. If you are in a suite with an open floor plan, there may be multiple emergency exits. There will be exit signs located at the bottom of the wall near the floor. In the event of heavy smoke, the exit signs near the floor will be clearer. When you arrive at your suite, will broadcast important instructions. For Our Disabled Guests
In addition to the preceding items, we ask that our disabled guests familiarize themselves with the following:

• Do not light candles in your suite
• Do not cook in your suite
• Immediately report any electrical malfunction or other hazard to the Safety Services section of this directory.

For your safety and the safety of others, please observe the following:

• Never smoke in bed or have lit cigarettes or cigars unwatched
• Never empty ashtrays into wastepaper baskets or trash receptacles
• Remove ashtrays from electrical outlets when not in use
• Immediately report any electrical malfunction or hazardous to the Resort Operator
• Do not use in your suite
• Do not light candles in your suite
• Report any flash or water leaks

Evacuation Procedures
In the event of an evacuation, first test your suite entry door by placing the back of your hand against it. If the door is cool, open it carefully and check for smoke. If there is thick smoke in the stairwell, immediately close the door and either return to your suite or proceed to the exit at the other end of the hallway. If the stairwell is safe, exit the building.

Vacant Elevators
NEVER USE THE ELEVATOR DURING A FIRE EMERGENCY.

Emergency Exit Destinations
Emergency exits are to be used for evacuation purposes only. Stay calm and proceed counterclockwise around the ground level emergency corridor and exit the building.

Blocked Exits
If your exit is blocked or filled with smoke, try the emergency exit on the opposite side of the hall. If you cannot leave your suite

If You Discover a Fire
If you discover a fire, immediately close all doors. If possible, close all the doors around the fire to keep it from spreading. Place a wet towel, cloth, sheet, blanket, or bedspread at the base of your door. Do not stay in your room. The smoke and heat will prevent smoke from entering your room.
